

University of Denver
Department of Anthropology

Field School in Historical Archaeology and Museum Studies June 21 - July 19, 2010

Photos courtesy Amache Preservation Society and University of Denver

To request an application or for more information about the field school contact:
Email: amachedu@du.edu
Phone: 303.871.2875

Field school will be held at Amache, a former Japanese American internment camp in Colorado and the Amache Preservation Society museum in Granada, Colorado.

Highlights of field school:

- *Intensive training in archaeological field methods including surface survey, excavation, landscape archaeology and field laboratory work.
- *Intensive training in collections management.
- *Hands-on work with historic artifacts and archival materials.
- *Interpreting archaeology and objects to the public on-site and in museum.

For More Information about the DU Amache project go to:
<https://portfolio.du.edu/amache>

Space is limited, so apply soon!
APPLICATIONS DUE MARCH 31, 2010